

Oral-Motor Therapy for Speech Clarity

Featuring Rene Roy Hill, MS. CCC-SLP

When:
Saturday, July 11, 2009
Where:
Integris Baptist Hospital
Auditorium
3300 NW Expressway
OKC, OK 73112
Time:
Registration: 8:00 am
Workshop:
8:30 am - 4:00 pm

Sara Rosenfeld-Johnson's innovative tactile-sensory approach to speech therapy uses therapy tools to train and transition muscle movements for speech production. Learn how 40 highly motivating motor activities can be used to improve phonation, resonance, and speech clarity. Interactive, hands-on demonstrations will focus on therapeutically sound techniques to develop oral-motor movements for improved speech clarity. Muscles of the abdomen, velum, jaw, lips, and tongue will be discussed within the parameters of movements necessary for speech production. Developmentally appropriate motor movements for speech are therapeutically targeted using highly motivating techniques appropriate for children and adults.

Learning Outcomes from this workshop:

1. Appropriately assess oral-motor based speech clarity disorders based on muscle systems.
2. Integrate hierarchies for motor dissociation and grading (jaw-lips-tongue).
3. Plan programs of therapeutic intervention to address physiological and motor-based speech disorders.
4. Appropriately apply at least 5 new therapy techniques.
5. Learn to use oral-motor techniques as a tactile cueing system in conjunction with traditional speech therapy techniques to improve speech clarity.

TalkTools books and materials will be available for purchase at the workshop.

ASHA CEU's available for this workshop from Innovative Therapists International.
